"Implementing Effective Sensory Diets for Children/Teens with ASD, ADHD, LD & Sensory Modulation Disorder "

- ✓ This workshop will focus on learning the basics of sensory issues usually present among children with autism, ADHD, LD and SPD; while it can be stand-alone disorder in some children, modulation issues overlap with earlier mentioned disorders. The use of a sensory diet is a research-based method of providing these individuals with the sensory input they need to function their best. This practical and evidence-based seminar will equip therapists (beginning to intermediate level), teachers, and caregivers with the ability to determine the sensory needs of the child and implement a sensory diet to meet the child's needs effectively. This is conducted by educational expert who have real experience in the subject under discussion.

Thank you in anticipation of an affirmative reply.

Sincerely yours,

LOLITA D. SERRANO, Ph. D.
President
